The India and Burma (Transitory Provisions) Order, 1937.
AT THE COURT AT BUCKINGHAM PALACE

The 18th day of March 1937.

PRESENT:

THE KING'S MOST EXCELLENT MAJESTY IN COUNCIL.

WHEREAS by section three hundred and ten of the Government of India Act, 1935 (hereafter in this Order referred to as "the India Act"), His Majesty in Council is empowered, for the purpose of facilitating the transition from the provisions of the Government of India Act to the provisions of that Act, to direct that the India Act shall, during a limited period, have effect subject to adaptations and modifications, to make with respect to a limited period temporary provision for ensuring that during and after the transition there are available to all Governments in India sufficient resources to enable the business of those Governments to be carried on, and to make other temporary provisions for the purpose of removing any difficulties arising in relation to the transition:

AND WHEREAS it is provided by paragraph two of the Third Schedule to the India Act that such provision shall be made for enabling the Governors of Provinces to discharge conveniently and with dignity the duties of their offices as may be determined by His Majesty in Council:

AND WHEREAS by sub-section (2) of section three hundred and nine of the India Act His Majesty in Council is empowered to make or vary any Order in Council previously made under that Act:

AND WHEREAS by section one hundred and fifty-six of the Government of Burma Act, 1935 (hereafter in this Order referred to as "the Burma Act"), His Majesty in Council is empowered, for the purpose of facilitating the transition from the provisions of the Government of India Act to the provisions of the Burma Act, to make temporary provision for the purpose of removing any difficulties arising in relation to the said transition:

AND WHEREAS a draft of this Order was laid before Parliament in accordance with the provisions of sub-section (1) of section three hundred and nine of the India Act, and sub-section (1) of section one hundred and fifty-seven of the Burma Act and an Address has been presented to His Majesty by both Houses of Parliament praying that an order may be made in the terms of this Order:

NOW, THEREFORE, His Majesty, in the exercise of the said powers and of all other powers enabling him in that behalf, is pleased, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, to order, and it is hereby ordered as follows:—

Introductory.

1. This Order may be cited as the India and Burma (Transitory Provisions) Order, 1937.

2. The Interpretation Act, 1889, applies for the interpretation of this Order as it applies for the interpretation of an Act of Parliament.

Provisions applicable only to India.

3. (1) For a period of two years from the commencement of Part III of the India Act, the provisions of sub-section (2) of section one hundred and forty-three of that Act (which authorizes the continuance, until provision to the contrary is made by the Federal Legislature, of certain provincial laws falling within the Federal List) shall have effect as if the reference to the first of January nineteen hundred and thirty-five were a reference to the commencement of the said Part III.

(2) Nothing in this paragraph shall continue any transition beyond the time for which it would continue if the India Act had not been passed.

4. In every Province notwithstanding anything contained in the India Act or in any Order in Council made thereunder, but subject to any provision to the contrary which may be made by an Act of the Indian, the Federal or the Provincial Legislature passed in the exercise of the powers respectively conferred on them by the India Act—

- (a) any tax, fine, penalty or other sum of whatever nature required by or under any law as in force immediately before the commencement of Part III of the India Act to be credited to any local fund or other fund shall, during the two financial years next following the commencement of the said Part III, continue to be so credited and shall not, during those years, be deemed to be part of the revenues of the Province;
- (b) any expenditure from provincial revenues, the amount of which is permitted by or under any law as in force immediately before the commencement of the said Part III, shall, in the said two financial years, be deemed to be expenditure charged on the revenues of the Province.

5. For the avoidance of doubt it is hereby declared that as much of the Road Development Fund, and so much of the Fund for the Economic Development and Improvement of Rural Areas, as remains in the hands of the Governor General in Council immediately before the commencement of Part III of the India Act, will, notwithstanding anything in section one hundred and seventytwo of that Act, continue to be held by him for the same purposes as theretofore.

6. (1) In the case of Orissa and Sind there shall be charged on the revenues of the Province, in addition to the amounts directed to be charged thereon by the Government of India (Governors' Allowances and Privileges) Order, 1936, such sums as the Governor, exercising his individual judgment, may deem it necessary to expend in the provision and furnishing of his official residences; and the Governor shall exercise his individual judgment as respects any questions arising in connection with the provision and furnishing of the said residences.

(2) In this paragraph "official residences" has the same meaning as in the Government of India (Governors' Allowances and Privileges) Order, 1936, and "provision", in relation to an official residence includes the reconstruction or improvement of a residence existing at the commencement of Part III of the India Act.

(3) This paragraph shall cease to have effect on the expiration of three years from the commencement of Part III of the India Act.

7. Notwithstanding anything in sub-paragraph (2) of paragraph three of the Government of India (Commencement and Transitory Provisions) Order, 1936, sub-section (2) of section one hundred and eighty-one of the India Act shall come into force on the commencement of Part III of that Act:

Provided that, until the establishment of the Federal Railway Authority, references in the said sub-section to the Authority shall be construed as references to the Governor General in Council.

8. (1) The provisions of this paragraph shall have effect for a period of one year from the commencement of Part III of the India Act:

Provided that the Governor General in Council or, as the case may be, His Majesty's representative for the exercise of the functions of the Crown in its relations with Indian States, may at any time direct that those provisions shall cease to have effect as respects any Province either generally, or in relation to any particular function or class of functions, or in relation to any particular law or enactment.

(2) Where any functions, which immediately before the commencement of Part III of the India Act were, under any existing Indian law, functions of the Governor or the Local Government of a Governor's Province, are transferred by or under the India Act to, or to some authority or officer constituted or appointed by, the Federal Government, the Governor shall continue to discharge those functions, subject to the like control by the Governor General in Council as was exercisable by him immediately before the commencement of the said Part III.

Nothing in this sub-paragraph shall affect the operation of sub-section (2) of section one hundred and forty-three of the India Act.

(3) The Chief Commissioner of a Chief Commissioner's Province shall discharge therein any functions which under any existing Indian law as for the time being in force are functions of a Provincial Government.

(4) Where any functions, which, for the purposes of the India Act, are functions of the Crown in its relations with Indian States, were immediately before the commencement of Part III of that Act being discharged by the Governor or the Local Government of, or some officer serving in connexion with the affairs of, a Province, the Governor or, as the case may be, that officer, shall continue to discharge those functions, subject to the like control by His Majesty's representative for the exercise of the functions of the Crown in its relations with Indian States as were exercisable immediately before the commencement of the said Part III by the Governor General in Council.

9. Paragraphs 9 and 10 of the Government of India (Commencement and Transitory Provisions) Order, 1936, are hereby repealed.

Provisions applicable both to India and Burma.

10. Notwithstanding the separation of India and Burma, the Indian Patents and Designs Act, 1911, shall, for a period of two years from the date of separation, have effect both in Burma and in India as if Burma had continued to be part of India, and accordingly references in that Act to the Advocate-General, to the High Court and to district courts shall, during that period, include references to the Advocate-General of Burma, the High Court at Rangoon and district courts in Burma, and the Governor of Burma shall be included among the authorities to whom certain documents are to be sent under section seventy-two of that Act:

Provided that nothing in this paragraph shall restrict any right of the Federal or the Indian Legislature or the Legislature of Burma to amend or repeal the said Act as respects India or Burma, as the case may be, with effect from before the expiration of the said period.

22. Provisions as to licence before execution.—

(1) A licensee shall not connect with his works the apparatus on the premises of any applicant for a supply unless he is reasonably satisfied that the consumer will not at the time of making the connection cause a leakage from that apparatus exceeding one five-thousandths part of the maximum supply determined in the applicant's premises.

(2) If a licensee desires to make a connection in accordance with sub-rule (1), he shall serve upon the applicant a notice stating his reason for so doing.

23. Limiting the consumer's pressure.—(1) If a licensee has reason to believe that there is in the system of a consumer leakage which is likely to affect adversely the use of energy in the licensee's or by other persons or which is likely to create danger, he may give the consumer reasonable notice in writing that he desires to inspect and test the apparatus.

(2) If on such notice being given—

(a) the consumer does not give all reasonable facilities for inspection and testing, or
(b) a leakage from the consumer's system exceeding one five-thousandths part of the maximum supply required by the consumer is shown to exist, the licensee may, after giving due notice, to apply energy to the system in question, giving immediate notice of the discontinuance to the consumer, and seal and re-secure the supply until he is satisfied that the cause of the leakage has been removed.

24. Appeal to Inspector.—(1) If an applicant is aggrieved by a finding—
(2) If an applicant for a supply or a licensee is dissatisfied with the action of a licensee under rule 13 or rule 24 or desiring to make a connection or to discontinue, or in not discontinuing the supply of energy, he may appeal to the Inspector, and the Inspector or under his orders any other officer appointed to assist the Inspector shall, on such application and on payment of the fee fixed under sub-rule (3) of rule 7, take the application for consideration of leakage.

(3) The test shall be carried out within fourteen days of the receipt of the application for it or of the payment of the fee under sub-rule (2), whichever is later.

42. Handling of apparatus.—Before any conductor or apparatus is handled, adequate precautions shall be taken, by cutting or other suitable means, to discharge electrically such conductor or apparatus, and any adjacent conductor or apparatus if there is danger therefrom, and to prevent any conductor or apparatus from being accidentally or unintentionally electrically charged when persons are working thereon.

Provided that this sub-rule shall not apply to the cleaning of conductors and slip-rings wearing at low or medium pressures.

48. Interference to be adopted by stationary and moving electrical machinery and electrical vehicles.

(a) No electrical installation work, including alterations, additions, repairs, and adjustments to existing installations, except such replacement of lamps, fuses, fuses, switches and other components parts of the installation as is an away alive in capacity or character shall be carried out upon the premises or on behalf of any owner or owner for the purpose of the supply of energy to such consumer or owner, except as electrical maintenance licensed by the provincial Government in this behalf and under the direct supervision of a person holding a certificate of competency issued by the provincial Government.

Provided that, the provincial Government may by notification in the local official Gazette exempt such conductors as it may impose any such description of work either generally or in the case of any specified class of conductors or systems from so much of this sub-rule as requires such work to be carried out by an electrical contractor licensed by the provincial Government in this behalf.

Provided further that this rule shall not apply to any work carried out by or on behalf of the Government of India, or the Government of India or district.

(b) This rule shall come into force in any town or port thereof in such date as the provincial Government may by notification in the local official Gazette appoint.

CHAPTER VI.

ELECTRIC SUPPLY-MAINTENANCE AND APPARATUS.

49. Conductors, insulators and fastenings of apparatus.—(a) All apparatus shall be sufficient in power and size and of sufficient mechanical strength for the work it may be required to do, and, so far as is practicable, shall be so constructed, installed, protected, worked and maintained as to prevent danger.

(b) All insulating material shall be chosen with special regard to the circumstances of its proposed use. It shall be of mechanical strength sufficient for its purpose, and, so far as is practicable, shall be of such a character or so protected as fully to maintain its insulating properties under working conditions of temperature and moisture.

(c) No live parts shall be so exposed as to be capable of being touched by persons not intended to have access to them.

(d) Every part of a system shall be kept efficiently insulated from earth, except that—

(i) the neutral point of a polyphase system may be earthed at one point only;

(ii) the mid-voltage point of any system, other than a monophase system, may be earthed at one point only.

50. Insulated clamps.—The contact of all circuits and apparatus shall be so arranged that there shall be no danger of any part thereof becoming accidentally charged to any pressure beyond the limits of pressure to which it is intended.

51. Isolates to be on the live wire.—(a) In any case where the conductor brought by the licensee to the point of communication of energy contains an earthed neutral conductor, the supply of energy shall not be discontinued, or continued, until or until the following precautions have been or are complied with, namely:—

(i) An indication of a permanent nature shall be provided by the licensee at or near the point of communication of supply to enable such neutral conductor to be disconnected from any live conductor at that point, and so single-phase switch shall be inserted by the licensee in such conductor or any branch circuit subject to hereinafter provided by this rule.

(ii) If as required by the licensee the consumer shall provide a similar indication to distinguish that conductor, forming part of his system, which is to be connected to the earthed neutral conductor at the point of communication of supply.

(iii) In a case referred to in (i) above (ii) shall the consumer insert any single-phase switch or cut-out or permit such switch or cut-out to be or to remain inserted in any conductor referred to in sub-rule (i).

(iv) Wherever the provisions of sub-rule

(ii) (a) of this rule, certain apparatus may be connected to an earthed neutral conductor as follows:—

(a) A link may be inserted for testing purposes; or a switch for use in controlling a generator or transformer.

(b) A switch or link may be inserted in the connection between the neutral conductor and earth at a generating station or substation for use as a testing and emergency only.

Provided that, so the case of consumers' systems connected to the licensee's main prior to the 1st July 1937 as possibly shall attach to the term of this rule occurring before the 1st July 1937.

52. Provision of earthed substations.—(a) Where an electric supply-line crosses, or is in proximity to, any suitable substance, the owner of the supply-line shall take such precautions as are necessary to prevent the possibility of the metallic substance becoming charged.

(b) Where such metallic substance is introduced after the electric supply-line has been laid or erected, the cost incurred in taking such precautions shall be referred to the owner of the electric supply-line by the owner of the metallic substance.

53. Cut-outs.—The owner of every electric supply-line (other than the earthed neutral conductor of a monophase system) shall provide at a suitable point—

(a) Aerial cross-arms—All metal cables or metallic conductors containing or protecting any electric supply-line or apparatus shall be grounded with earth by the owner, and shall be so fixed and maintained as to all powerhouses and other openings as to only good mechanical and electrical connections therefrom their whole length.

Provided that this rule shall not apply to isolated and to be to brackets, struts, standards, standards, which at its regular repairs or other fittings (other than those provided for) is fastened where the supply is at low pressure.

54. Touch-insulations.—The owners of all street junction-boxes or pillars shall make repairs or apparatus shall secure their covers and doors in such a manner that they can be opened only by means of a special apparatus.

55. Isolation of circuits of different pressure.—The owner of every generating station, sub-station, practices but at place at which there are no connections, or apparatus, intended for connection at different places, shall assume that the respective circuit parts are really connected, and not another.

(a) Connections with earth of houses of generators, etc.—The frame of every generator, stationary motor, and, as far as is practicable, portable motor, and the metallic parts (not insulated or encased) of all transformers, cables, regulating or controlling apparatus connected with the supply, shall be earthed in the manner by the separate and distinct connections with earth.

(b) Connections with earth of a multicircuit system.—In every distributing system in which there is a neutral conductor, where the pressure between the neutral conductor and an outer or phase conductor exceeds 125 volts, the neutral conductor shall be connected with earth with the separate and distinct connections from the neutral conductor and in accordance with the following provisions, namely:—

(i) the connection shall be made at one point only in each district, station, works, at the generating station or substation, or both, as the case may be, and the conductors of the system shall be insulated at all other points;

(ii) the connection shall not be made by the aid of, nor shall it be connected with any main-cable, ground or similar mass not belonging to the house or sub-house, as the case may be, except with the consent of the owner thereof and of the Inspector; a certificate, not exceeding 30 inches, may be inserted between the neutral wire and earth, and, if so inserted, it shall be of sufficient cross-sectional area to carry the current which would possibly occur at such or phase conductor should accidentally connect with earth;

(iii) the connection shall not be inserted except for the purpose of testing, in which case it shall be made good again as soon as such test is finished, and a record of any such disconnection shall be kept by the owner of the house, as the case may be;

Provided that, where the pressure is low and the span is of less than 50 feet and it is on the owner's premises, a conductor having an actual breaking load of not less than 100 lbs. may be used.

44. Approval of intermediate brackets supports.—The owner of an aerial line shall ensure that the conductors are attached to supports at intervals, not exceeding the safe limits based on the actual breaking load of the conductor and the factor of safety prescribed in rule 56.

Provided that where such a line is erected in, over, along or across any street, the interval shall not, without the consent in writing of the Inspector, exceed 250 feet.

45. Clearances with aerial of metal supports and appurtenances.—(1) The owner of any aerial line supported by metal supports shall ensure that those supports are permanently and efficiently coated. For this purpose a continuous zinc wire securely fastened to each support and connected with each of four points in every pole, the spacing between the points being an evenly quadrantal on persons, shall be provided, or alternatively, each support shall be protected in an effective rusting device. (2) Each such wire shall be suitably earthed unless an insulator has been placed in it at a height of not less than ten feet from the ground.

(2) For the purpose of calculating the factors of safety:—

- (a) the previous wind pressure shall be applied by the provincial Government in each case;
- (b) for cylindrical bodies the effective area shall be taken as two-thirds of the actual area exposed to wind pressure;
- (c) for lattice steel or other compound structures the wind pressure on the lattice members shall be taken as one-half of the wind pressure on the windward side members, and the factor of safety shall be calculated on the crippling load of spars and upon the elastic limit of lattice members;
- (d) the temperature shall be taken as 70°F. or such other temperature as the provincial Government may specify;

(3) Notwithstanding anything in sub-rule (2) and (3), in location where aerial lines are liable to accumulation of ice or snow, the provincial Government may, by order in writing, specify such factor of safety as it may think fit and the conditions under which it is to be calculated.

47. Factor from ground or distance from buildings.—(1) From conductor of an aerial line (not being a trolley wire or a trolley feeder or the main support as a trolley wire) shall be—

(a) at least 20 feet above the ground where it is over any part of a street or other public place;

(6) Where two lines cross, the crossing shall be made as nearly at right angles as the nature of the case admits.

(7) The guarding arrangements shall ordinarily be carried out by the owner of the pole on which it is made, and he shall be responsible for its efficient maintenance.

Loss of Library Books and Scientific Apparatus.

Library books.

8. (a) On the verification of the stock of books in the University Library, the Librarian reported loss of books during Rs. 1200. When the stock was placed before the Syndicate at its meeting held on the 24th October 1936, the Syndicate decided that steps be taken to trace out as many books as possible (refined) in the stock submitted with the Librarian's report and that the Librarian be authorized to take such steps as he may deem fit. The Librarian's report was referred to the Librarian's report to be reported.

Scientific Apparatus

(b) (i) The annual verification reports of the Heads of Departments in Physics, Chemistry and Zoology disclosed loss of certain articles as shown below and the amount of the Syndicate regarding inventory or value of the value were estimated:—

Department	Number of articles lost.	Approximate value.
Physics ..	30	Rs. 100
Chemistry ..	5	Rs. 500
Zoology ..	1	Rs. 100

(c) The loss of correspondence in the matter showed that some valuable money was collected from students against any loss or damage to apparatus in their laboratories. The loss of correspondence money is for consideration.

(d) The loss of correspondence of a register to show articles lost or books with their cost, value of the person responsible with the Librarian (physical or otherwise) may be of use to which the article taken to improve the loss, whenever necessary.

Use of apparatus.

9. An agreement was not obtained from the Visagapatnam Electric Supply Corporation which is supplying the electrical energy required by the University. The value of supply for energy appears to have increased considerably recently and this revised rate would need to be included in the report.

Annual verification of apparatus, books and plant.

10. The verification of apparatus in all the institutions of the University was done in the last week of December 1936. The result of verification was satisfactory. The annual verification of books and plant in the institutions and the result of verification was satisfactory. The result of verification was satisfactory.

Financial Fund—Expend.

11. (a) The book clerk, Mr. M. V. Ramaniakrishna and three students, Messrs. M. Ramaniakrishna, K. V. Appasa and M. V. Padmanabhaiah, were admitted to the University of Madras with the sanction of the Syndicate. As their pay was salary, and from local funds, the loss collected from the books, they do not appear to come under the category of "services of University" requiring them to contribute to Provident Fund under section 1 of Chapter XX of the Andhra University Code. In the absence of specific assignment to the Syndicate providing such contribution to contribute to the Provident Fund, the books and salaries paid on their behalf must meet recovery.

(b) The expense provided in section 4 of Chapter XX of the University Code for recording the declaration, certification of the scholars was not mentioned. Some disbursements were not mentioned in the above disbursements of the students received.

LIBRARY.

Transactions relating to replacement of missing books not brought to University Accounts.

12. The cost of missing books lost to the members of the Library and not replaced by them was being collected by the Librarian and receipts were issued for such collections. The money was given by the Librarian in the purchase of the books. The amounts were not, however, credited in the University Accounts. An account was kept of the amounts received and spent in the replacement of books with vouchers in support of any amount collected or money that might be refunded to the members. In this regard, therefore, the Librarian is in a position to state that the money was not collected in the replacement of books. It was purely a private transaction, which the Librarian was doing on behalf of the members. As, however, money was collected and spent by an officer of the University, it is desirable that these transactions are incorporated in the University Accounts. A register may be maintained in the Librarian's office, the names of members responsible for the loss and action taken to replace them.

See Accounts—Debits.

13. (a) Receipts were not granted to parties for the money paid by such as required by rule 28 of the Finance Rules of the University. Though it was pointed out that the amount received was not a receipt and that the party is entitled to have a receipt for the amount paid.

(b) A big book for loss showing receipts was not maintained though it was pointed out that the big book will give a fair idea of the total consumption and therefore big books are invariably maintained in all well-kept running libraries and houses.

14. The gross receipts and charges for the year were Rs. 1,25,000-0-0 and Rs. 1,25,000-0-0 respectively.

15. Thirty sheets of cheques involving an amount of Rs. 10,000-0-0 were pending settlement at the close of 1936.

MADRAS COMMERCE REPORT FOR THE MONTH OF MARCH 1937.

Exports showed by Rs. 12,671 lakhs and imports declined by Rs. 2,018 lakhs. The principal exports to India were paddy (Rs. 10. 50.2 lakhs), cotton raw (Rs. 4. 08 lakhs), tobacco unmanufactured (Rs. 4.05 lakhs), cotton processed, coloured, pressed or dyed (Rs. 2.35 lakhs), greenish cake (Rs. 2.14 lakhs), rice not in the husk (Rs. 2.75 lakhs), tea and steepy alone (Rs. 2.10 lakhs), tanned raw skins (Rs. 2.08 lakhs), tanned goat skins (Rs. 2.10 lakhs), mixed ores ore (Rs. 2.25 lakhs), and other articles (Rs. 4.25 lakhs). There were increases in exports under iron and vegetables (Rs. 1.77 lakhs), silk raw (Rs. 1.37 lakhs), and machinery and mill work (Rs. 1.39 lakhs) and decreases under metal and ore, iron, and steel (Rs. 2.48 lakhs), fur raw (Rs. 3.75 lakhs), dyestuff and tanning materials (Rs. 2.68 lakhs), rice not in the husk (Rs. 2.30 lakhs), cotton processed (Rs. 2.08 lakhs), and other articles (Rs. 2.75 lakhs). During the above period (from 1st April 1936 to the 28th February 1937) exports from the Madras Presidency of Indian merchandise to foreign countries advanced from Rs. 3,479.11 lakhs to Rs. 3,323.86 lakhs or by about 5.6 per cent, whilst imports of foreign merchandise from foreign countries declined from Rs. 5,435.92 lakhs to Rs. 5,205.51 lakhs or by about 2.7 per cent.

COMMERCE TALKS.—EXPORTS OF INDIA.

Cotton has lagged behind the general improvement of commodity prices, but with a revival of speculative interest in cotton markets there was a marked advance in cotton rates during March and, provided the commodity boom continues, there seems no reason why cotton should not participate in it. Following the rise in cotton, prices of Indian mill cloth were also increased, but not to anything like the extent of the rise in the raw material. There was a strong demand for India, as a result of which an appreciable advance in prices was seen. The finished cloth, and tanned sheep skins markets qualified to be firm. There was a good demand for greenish cake during the month and prices improved. The paddy and rice markets were firm and rates showed an upward trend. The raw yarn market remained steady and prices were, for the most part, satisfactory. Prices of copra and coconut oil appreciated in response to an improved demand. Pepper prices strengthened owing to speculative buying and the market closed firm. Prices of sugar advanced and the market closed firm. The sugar market was unsettled and rates fluctuated but, on balance, prices of Java and Dutch Indian sugar advanced slightly. The market closing steady, but with an overall advance. Twice at the end of the month Java was well advanced during the month by one-bushel demand and support from buyers occurred by the improving statistical situation for the growth. The International Rubber Committee decided during the month to increase the production quota from 55 per cent to 59 per cent of the basic standard for the second half of the year. The commodity advanced to over a shilling per pound, the highest level for eight years. The statistical advance, reflect the increasing outlook for the rubber growth, and although the price has since reacted, still higher prices may be seen during the next few months, as considerable doubt seems to exist as to whether the industry can produce more than 55 per cent of its basic quota.

GENERAL.

It will be seen from this report that the month of March witnessed an appreciation in values of most commodities, and although the rate is some instances have been due to speculative buying and sharp reactions have been seen from time to time consequent on the absence of actually speculative conditions that may have been built up in various commodities, the present upward movement in most commodity markets seems to be more than a passing phase, since export statistics of commodities have been much reduced, whilst consumption is rising sharply. The rise in commodity prices was the outstanding feature of the first half of 1936, and it seems scarcely a coincidence that the first half of 1937, between the end of May 1936, and the middle of March 1937, 'The Economist' indices of the prices of primary products in Great Britain and the United States of America rose by 27 per cent and 25 per cent respectively and such a sharp rise must inevitably benefit the purchasing power of primary producing countries. World industrial production last year was already 10 per cent above the production of 1929, and the focus working for industrial expansion was still strongly operative, whilst the maintenance by governments of larger stocks and the abundance of commodities seems likely to continue to be a feature of most commodity markets. International trade (which) therefore from now on tend to increase more rapidly both in value and volume. There is also reason to believe that the mounting gold production will exert an upward pressure on world wholesale price levels, although the degree to which prices will be influenced by the plans suggested to gold in the reorganised national credit systems and the extent to which the monetary authorities of the various countries expand the credit structure. If the world-wide inflationary movement with which the world seems to be faced gathers momentum the upward trend of prices of cotton raw materials and crude materials must inevitably proceed much further.

IMPORTS SUMMARY.

The month ended with a decline in imports with some small exceptions from consuming countries, and although the sharp rise in cotton prices was reflected in increased rates for all parts, the effects was below normal.

IMPORTS SUMMARY.

Require for imported paddy was on a restricted scale though cotton showed no tendency to dispose of their holdings in view of the rise in cotton prices and the fact that Manchester rates continued to advance. At the end of the month, prices showed a tendency to rise, but were still considerably below previous rates.
